

The United Democrats Slate

Always forward, always together!

We, the United Democrats, stand together to protect our democracy; we will fight for our inclusive values and the future of California and America.

We stand together to protect all Californians from federal overreach. We want to protect our environment, organized labor, a woman's right to choose, and freedom from religious and racial persecution. We will work to empower our youth and join the united front to protect and expand our rights under the Constitution.

Progressive California values are the way forward for the Democratic Party, and we pledge to further them in every way we can, through the selection of party leaders, platforms, and ideals. Our commitment and our diversity of experiences and perspectives will best represent the 4th Assembly District on the Democratic Party's State Central Committee. We will always fight for you and we'd be honored to have your support. We are:

Jan Agee,
Davis

As a community college English professor, writer for education organizations, a mother and grandmother, I believe we must fight for our future together. Having served as a Hillary Clinton delegate to the Democratic National Convention, I'm now am eager to represent AD 4 as a delegate committed to supporting and advancing the Democratic Party's ideals.

Marlene Bell, Winters

Marlene is a seasoned advocate, educator, labor union organizer, retired executive for the California Teachers Association, and the current vice-chair of the Yolo County Democratic Party. She's your current AD 4 representative and is ready to continue to represent you on the California Democratic Party's State Central Committee and Executive Board.

Juliet Crites,
Davis

I am a Democrat that grew up in American Canyon and now live in Davis. I am impassioned and committed to fighting for fairness in government, often focused on climate change, social justice issues, and getting Democrats elected. I'm a union member, a job steward in SEIU 1000, a member of the Central Labor Council and was an organizer for the Yolo for Hillary campaign. I ask for your vote to represent all of District 4.

Cecilia Escamilla
Greenwald,
Davis

Cecilia has decades of experience as a trained mediator and labor advocate who has worked as a volunteer in grassroots organizing on issues that include advocacy for children, youths, minorities, immigrants, social justice civil rights, LGBTQ rights, voter registration and many other issues.

Dillon Horton,
UC Davis

Dillan is an after-school program director, an education advocate, and a member of the Davis Democratic Club. Dillan is running so that every child can live up to his or her potential and to ensure that progressive values always have a seat at the table.

Ruy Laredo,
Davis

I am Field Representative for California State Senator Bill Dodd and an active Young Democrat with years of experience in grassroots organizing, fundraising, and campaign work. I'm running for an ADEM position, once more, because young people need to have a seat at the table. We are not just the future of the Democratic Party – we must be part of its present.

Derek Pell,
UC Davis

Derek is a mechanical engineering, grauate student who got involved with the Bernie Sanders campaign last spring. A newcomer to political involvement, Derek is motivated by the desire to see the political system work for all, not just those at the top.

Gretchen
Pemberton,
Rohnert Park

Gretchen is an attorney, a progressive activist, and a long-time volunteer for the Democratic Party. She is dedicated to protecting the environment and our civil right, as well as strengthening and rebuilding the Democratic Party.

G. Anthony
Phillips,
American Canyon

I would be honored to serve as an ADEM delegate again. I believe we have good momentum in California to get progressive ideals to be in play nationally. We need to continue our grassroots effort and by building the fourth district coalition is one way to do just that.

Kim Richards,
Napa

Protecting the environment, having a healthy eco-system and combating climate change is a fight I do everyday. We must come together and take a stand for what we value most; a better life for everyone. We must have hope.

Don Saylor,
Davis

Don currently serves as Yolo County Supervisor, representing District 2. He is a former appointed member of the Yolo County Democratic Central Committee and has been active in the Democratic Party for decades. Don's personal motto is "Working for You."

Edwin Warren,
Napa

The country faces unimaginable challenges. Obama and Trump are the opening two steps in a tectonic shift in American politics. Our Democratic Party must find a populist message speaking to West Virginia and California. It's doable.

If you are a registered Democrat and live in Colusa, Lake, Napa, Solano, or Yolo County excepting West Sacramento :
